

The Future Internet Assembly is one of the central events of the Future Internet week which takes place every 6 months in the country that is currently holding the EU presidency. In fall 2011 FIA took place in Poznan, Poland October 25 and 26 and a session on Networked Media Roadmapping on October 25 was organised by NextMedia with Paul Moore as Chair of the session. The session could also be followed remotely in live streaming.

You can check this out at their site .